3. Reasons for the Variance and the Revision

(1) Variance Between the Performance Forecasts and the Results for the First Six Months Ended May 31, 2013

The consolidated revenue fell below the previous forecast since the Company decided to postpone the dispositions of certain buildings in the Revitalization Business later until after end of the current fiscal year, and also the sale of Restyling properties had progressed slower than expected.

On the other hand, the actual profits exceeded the forecasts, owing to the sale of two condominium projects completed in the current two quarters, under which larger profit margins were earned compared with the original plans, as well as to the brokerage fees etc. booked associated with property dispositions in the Fund and Consulting Business.

(2) Revision in Consolidated Performance Forecasts for the Year Ending Nov. 30, 2013

The Company revised its consolidated full-year revenue forecast for the year ending November 30, 2013 downward to ¥34,946 million, a decrease of ¥2,066 million from the previous forecast, due mainly to the rescheduled dispositions of certain buildings.

On the other hand, it revised the consolidated full-year forecasts for the operating profit upward to ¥3,805 million, an increase of ¥521 million and the profit for the year to ¥1,903 million, an increase of ¥305 million, as they have exceeded the original plan during the first-half of the current year, and are generally expected to remain as planned in the second-half.
